Activity: One-day cluster conference on “Engaging Youth Leaders for Indigenous and Sustainable Climate Action” organized by the Department of Botany, UAJ&K, in collaboration with the Teacher’s Resource Centre under the US Consulate–funded CANDLE project.

Context (SDG 13 – Climate Action): The conference built awareness and capacity for climate action by engaging youth, scholars, and stakeholders in developing social action projects targeting local climate challenges. With keynote insights, expert panel discussions, and student-led initiatives, the event advanced SDG 13 by promoting education, collaboration, and community-driven strategies for climate resilience and sustainability.
